Art Unit: 2115

1. This action is in response to the application filed on January 7, 2002. Claims 1-15 are pending.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 1, 3, 8, 9, 14 and 15, these claims are unclear and indefinite as to the claimed invention because they are not in the proper format. These claims include multiple periods and/or capital letters that are not abbreviations. See MPEP 608.01(i) and 608.01(m). Each claim begins with a capital letter and ends with a period. Periods may not be used elsewhere in the claims except for abbreviations. See Fressola v. Manbeck, 36 USPQ2d 1211 (D.D.C. 1995).

Regarding claim 1, the phrases "the buffer" and "the unit" lack proper antecedent basis. The phrase "the unit" lacks proper antecedent basis because several different "units" are recited in claim 1 and it is unclear what unit (CPU, FWH, KBC or LED-displaying) these phrases refer to.

Regarding claim 3, the phrase "When it updates the code" lacks proper antecedent basis and is indefinite because it is unclear what "it" refers to. In addition, there is no element recited as updating the code in claims 1 or 3. Claim 1 recites that KBC unit generates an update message when it receives the comparison signal from the FWH unit. No updating element is recited in claim 1.

Furthermore, the phrase "the code" lacks proper antecedent basis.

Claims 2-8 are rejected because they incorporate the deficiencies of claim 1.

Regarding claim 9, the preamble recites that the claimed invention is directed to updating BIOS. However, the body of the claim recites that the KBC unit is updated, not the BIOS. Therefore, the claim is unclear as to whether it is directed to updating the BIOS or updating the KBC unit.

Claims 10-15 are rejected because they incorporate the deficiencies of claim 9.
